FIRST AUGUST CALL

SIX SELECTS WILL BE SENT
FROM THIS DISTRICT
AUGUST 5th

A call issued July 15th which was delayed in reaching the local Exemption Board, has just arrived, and calls for six men to be entrained for Camp Fremont during the five-day period beginning August 5th. It is a call for white men physically qualified for general military service. Registrants of the June 5th, 1918 class may be voluntarily inducted provided all Class A. men of 1917 have been inducted. In obedience to this call, men have been summoned as follows:

Norman Nash Badger, formerly 1559 West Colorado street, now 522 Virginia Place, Glendale, a married man thirty years of age, who has been in the employ of the Wholesale Drug Company of Los Angeles as clerk.

Noble J. Ripley, 527 Mariposa street, a married man in the employ of the Ralph Grocery Company of Los Angeles.

Steve Borgono, of Saugus, 23 years of age, a farmer and laborer with dependent parents.

Louis Frederick Caron of Corcoran, a farmer and teamster.

Harry Russell Wright, R. F. D. 1, Box 68, Lankershim, married, and a shoe salesman.

Edward Milton Jones, 133 North Jefferson avenue, Peoria, Ill., an electric motorman, married.

Alternates

The following men have been named as alternates to fill possible vacancies:

Charles U. Wells, 1504 West Broadway, Glendale, a married man with experience in the automobile and moving picture businesses and who has had slight military training.

Ralph A. McFarlan, 2128 Branden street, Los Angeles, son of Mrs. J. P. Schwab of Kenwood street, Glendale, experienced as a salesman and collector and married.

Maurice Joseph Feary, 624 Palmer avenue, Glendale, a new registrant who can be inducted only if he chooses to go. He is 21 years of age and is evidently ambitious as he has been attending night school for about four years. He is experienced as a travelling salesman, typist and shipping clerk.

Joseph Kelly, of Saugus, who is single, and who is experienced as a teamster and farm laborer.

CORPORAL PADELFORD PROMOTED

Corporal Carlton Padelford of 5th Co. C. A. C., Reservation Point, San Pedro, and his wife spent Sunday with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Padelford, 915 Fairview avenue.

Carlton's friends will be glad to hear of his promotion and also to learn that he has recently passed, with a very high per cent, the preliminary examinations for Master Gunner. He is studying every moment away from his duties the higher mathematics, trigonometry, etc., aiming for the Officers' Training School. He says: "If I stay here I might as well make good at something, but the officers all want to 'go over' and will at the first opportunity." They are now busy training the recruits who are coming to take the places of the three thousand or more soldiers who recently left for France from Ft. MacArthur.

The former 9th Co. in which so many of the Glendale boys were at first, is now changed to the 5th Co. C. A. C., composed of new men, only the officers remaining the same.

G. A. R. ENCAMPMENTS

Commander C. H. Clark of N. P. Banks Post, G. A. R., will soon leave for the encampment of the Southern California Veterans' Association at Huntington Beach, which opens next week. He plans to be there during the entire session and at the close will go north to the National Encampment which opens at Portland August 19th. Others from the local Post and Corps who will probably go to Portland are Major Weiler, T. M. Barrett, Mrs. C. R. Norton and daughter.

Commander Clark also states that the improvements which have been recently made in the G. A. R. Hall, which has been painted and redecorated, are now completed and the headquarters are now in very nice shape.

MRS. DUFFIELD BEREAVED

Mrs. Harry Duffield of Lomita avenue has suffered a bereavement in the death of her mother, Mrs. John Bullock, who has just passed away at her home in Duarte. Mrs. Bullock has been an invalid for two years and her death was not unexpected, but is nevertheless a great blow to Mrs. Duffield. Funeral services will be held Friday.

FORD AGENCY SOLDIERS

C. B. WILDE HAS LETTERS FROM
JESSE SMITH AND SERGT.
LOUIS A. LEWIS

C. B. Wilde has had a card from Jesse Smith reporting that he has completed his course in the Ordnance Training School and is now awaiting orders. He does not give any details of his camp life or how he likes his new job for Uncle Sam.

Louis A. Lewis has been transferred from the Coast Artillery to the Anti Aircraft service and the following letter dated July 24th from Camp Eustis, has been received by Mr. Wilde:

"Dear Ben—After travelling over 4000 miles we hit the most desolate hole I was ever in. This place is in the swamps of Virginia. It is just waste land the good Lord put here to keep the world together. But all in all, I am glad to be here, as this is the closest step towards getting across. There is no use explaining to you my desire to get across. I am still as anxious to go as ever and do my bit in this great war in spite of the fact that when we get over we will run into conditions far worse than this place.

We had a splendid trip out here, were welcomed at every stop and the crowds cheered us. I yelled so much that I lost my voice completely the third day out. The Red Cross was there strong. At every big city we hit they would turn out and give us cold drinks, cake, cigarettes and postal cards.

We are sure hitting the ball here. We drill from six a. m. to 7 p. m. and she is sure hot. The perspiration runs off you when you are not drilling, and when you drill it pours off you. This is going to be the largest camp in the U. S. when completed. About 20,000 workmen are working here, mostly colored.

Glendale never looked so good to me in all my life as it does now and when this war is over and they hand me that piece of paper there will be no stop-overs for me. I am going to take the fastest train west. Give my best regards to all the boys.

Address: Sgt. Louis A. Lewis, No. 837671, Battery "A", 4th Anti Aircraft Battalion, Camp Eustis, Virginia.

OFFICERS' TRAINING CAMPS

That there is still an excellent opportunity for registrants and civilians to enter officers' training camps is clear from information on file at the office of the local Exemption Board.

A circular letter has been sent out by Adjutant General Borree to the various Boards in California which states that officers' training schools for registrants have been established as follows:

For Infantry Camp Lee, Camp Gordon and Camp Pike, which last is near Little Rock, Ark., and is the camp to which the California applicants will be sent.

Field Artillery: Camp Taylor near Louisville, Ky.

Machine Gun Training: Camp Hancock, Augusta, Ga.

Chance for Civilians

The letter also states that civilians who possess the necessary qualifications as to education, character and physique who desire to attend these schools will apply either in person or in writing for information and necessary blank forms to the army officer on duty as professor of Military Science and Tactics at the educational institution nearest the applicant. In California the following named institutions have professors of Military Science and Tactics, who can be consulted or addressed by applicants:

Leland Stanford University.
Harvard School, Los Angeles.
Throop College, Pasadena.
University of Santa Clara, Santa Clara.

Pomona College, Claremont.
University of California, Berkeley.
Hitchcock Military Academy, San Rafael.

Mount Tamalpais Military Academy, San Rafael.

San Diego Army and Navy Academy, San Diego.

EXEMPTION BOARD NOTES

The local Board has been advised by the Adjutant General that it can no longer induct registrants into the navy or the marine service, or into the emergency fleet.

Base Ball Players

A circular letter relative to the "Work or Fight" order as applied to baseball players, states that the President has directed that the application of selective service regulations No. 4 to professional base ball players shall be made to date from September 1, 1918.

ALLIES ADVANCE ON THREE SECTORS

GO FORWARD SOME PLACES FOR TWO MILES ON A COMBINED FRONT OF TWENTY-FIVE MILES

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

The allies today smashed forward on three sectors of the Rheims-Soissons salient gaining as much as two miles in some places.

Attacks were made on the southwest, south and southeast portions of the salient over a combined front of twenty-five miles.

They captured Cramoiselle, Hill 205 and Mauniere Wood. The Germans in Mauniere Wood had blocked the allied advance for several days.

The Americans appeared today for the first time on the east side of the salient advancing toward the Ardre valley near Ville-en-Tardenois.

Reports from the front today stated that the Germans are attempting to dig in at many points on the present line, indicating that they desire to hold it.

There have been no German infantry attacks in the last twenty-four hours excepting raids on widely scattered sectors.

FOLLOWING ALLIED ADVANCE ON THE EAST

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

PARIS, August 1.—American forces attacking the lower part of the Soissons-Rheims salient last night stormed the heights between Seringes and Sergy carrying all their objectives.

They attacked behind a smoke cloud after a heavy rolling barrage.

This advance followed an allied advance in the sector immediately to the east where a small German pocket was cleared.

ONENTS THEY HAVE MORE MEN IN RESERVE

IN THE HIGH SIERRAS

MR. AND MRS. BLAKE FRANKLIN
AND FAMILY RETURN FROM MOUNTAIN TOUR

Mr. and Mrs. Blake Franklin and children have just returned from a month's outing in the mountains, the greater part of that time being spent by them at "The Pines" on Bass Lake in the Sierra National Forest. Bass Lake is an artificial body of water made by damming the San Joaquin river. It is accessible to splendid fishing grounds which were thoroughly canvassed by Mr. Franklin, who is a regular Isaak Walton with a rod and line. He has to his credit the landing of a 2½-pound bass, as large as any that have been caught there this season. He also beat the streams round about and got the limit (fifty) in mountain trout which ranged in size up to ten inches. He enjoyed catching them and the family enjoyed eating them for they are most delicious. Mrs. Franklin accompanied him on two of his hikes, going with him over the Cascade Trail, along which are many interesting and picturesque spots which are known as Baby Grand Canyon, the Big Bath Tub and other names equally suggestive.

Traveling was not always easy after they left the State Highways. The mountain roads are many of them steep and narrow and full of chuck holes which make traveling difficult and dangerous, the more so on account of the reckless driving of some autoists. They saw many accidents from this cause, but got through themselves without damage. An old gentleman care taker with whom they talked on the way said the behavior of some of the auto drivers was simply terrible and a menace to all others on the road.

After leaving Bass Lake they drove to the Mariposa Grove of Big Trees and inspected with awe the giant Sequoias and then spent a few days in the Yosemite Valley, which they found very beautiful with lots of water coming over the falls.

The Franklins also report with pride that their car, a Studebaker 6, came through without their experiencing any tire trouble or difficulties of any sort. They are rather tired from their return journey, as they traveled day and night and came over the desert in daylight.

RED CROSS WORKERS

About twenty-five workers in the surgical dressings department of the Glendale Chapter of the Red Cross assembled at the workroom and turned out 307 pads as the product of their day's work. Seven workers busied themselves in the same work on Wednesday, the list for the two days including Mesdames Archie Parker, Meta Hearnshaw, M. S. Russell, W. N. Stamps, A. W. Beach, Jack Wagon, B. Matthieson, C. S. Bierbower, Harry Gardiner, F. C. Roemer, Miss Hope Ireland, Mesdames S. Houdyshe, T. D. Ogg, G. F. Lat-ter, V. Price Brown, L. B. Nunn, A. D. Switzer, Dorothy Shaw, M. H. Sheffer, C. L. Bullard, H. M. Oswald, A. A. Burchfield, Alice E. Jackson, Madeline Love, I. A. Flint, Miss Ethel Traver, Miss Dorothy Dow, Mrs. C. E. Harlan, Charles Coates, Arthur Switzer, O. P. Barnett, Mrs. Eva Tuft, Linda H. Berry.

Mrs. Glenwood Jones was hostess assisted by some of the workers at the 4 o'clock tea at headquarters Wednesday. It was well patronized and much enjoyed. A novel Red Cross receptacle for offerings is about to be installed which has just been made for the organization and is likely to attract much attention.

JASON KILLGORE LANDS AT SAN FRANCISCO

J. A. Killgore of 1607 Vine street received a letter yesterday from his son Jason, who had just landed in San Francisco from a voyage to Mexican and Central American ports as wireless operator on the "Para." It was a very interesting trip as the ship touched at three Mexican ports and several in Honduras, Nicaragua and Guatemala, going almost to Panama. It was rather an anxious voyage on account of the rumors of a German raider in those waters. Jason expects to make one more trip on the "Para," rounding out 365 days of continuous service as radio operator, then join the U. S. Signal Corps.

EXEMPTION BOARD CONFERENCE

Dr. Shirk, designated as "Medical Aide," who has been sent out by the Government on a tour of inspection of the work of Exemption Boards, has summoned the members of the local Exemption Boards and the examining physicians to a conference which will be held at Board headquarters at 11 o'clock next Tuesday morning.

FALLS IN BATTLE

GLENDALE BOY IN RAINBOW DIVISION
KILLED IN BATTLE OF THE MARNE

The first toll which Glendale is called to pay as the price of the patriotism of her sons in the great battle of the Marne, still raging, has been exacted. Mrs. Snyder of 119 East Laurel street, this city, has just received an official telegram announcing the death of her son, Corporal John N. Snyder, July 20th, from wounds received in battle. He was a member of the Rainbow Division in which a number of Glendale boys enlisted and knew them. He was a young man of fine character and in the last letter received from him by his mother he said "If you hear of my death you may know I was not a slacker." Among his comrades from Glendale in the Rainbow Division were Sergt. Hugh Freeman, Edwin Sadler, Frank Littell, Douglas Balthis and Ed Burlingham.

A GLENDALE WAR NURSE

Miss Anna T. Bode, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Bode of 306 Orange street, has now entered the government service. She is said to be the first nurse resident in Glendale to be called for war work. She left Wednesday afternoon to report to the Military Hospital at the Presidio, San Francisco, and expects to be sent abroad from there very soon. She completed her training in the Pasadena Hospital about a year ago and has since been handling cases for local physicians who are well pleased with her work. The call left her no extra time so she did not have time to say good-bye to her many friends here. Her brother, William Bode, who has been in service at Camp Kearny for some time, is probably on the high seas now on his way to France.

GUESTS OF SCENIC ARTIST

A rare treat was enjoyed Wednesday afternoon by a party of Glendale people including Mr. and Mrs. I. H. Pearson, Mrs. J. T. Crampton, Mrs. Guy Pearson, Miss Marian Pearson, and Miss Mary Le Baron of Brawley. They went to Hotel Maryland, Pasadena, on the special invitation of the noted artist, Wallace De Wolf, who is a cousin of Mrs. I. H. Pearson, the artist graciously sending his own limousine to convey the party. At the Maryland he is exhibiting a collection of paintings of California and Arizona desert and mountain scenery too wonderful to describe, but in which he has caught the elusive light and shifting sands of the desert and the mists and color of the mountains, a lone pine or a giant cactus, sometimes centering the picture like a sentinel on guard. Many beautiful etchings are also on display and the artist, by special demonstration, showed the party just how an etching is made.

After the great treat, refreshments were served by Miss Lillian Rea, who acted as hostess, and a social hour was spent, the party then returning to Glendale.

CLARENCE KLAMM ON LEAVE

J. Clarence Klam, formerly of 616 W. Broadway, who has been stationed at the Submarine Base at San Pedro, for the last four months, is on a wee's leave and is visiting his parents at 235 East Broadway. He will leave for Mare Island next Tuesday and may be transferred to the Atlantic Coast soon.

He has always wanted to visit the eastern coast and hopes now to have the opportunity at Uncle Sam's expense.

Mr. Klam likes the sailor life in spite of the fact that he has not found it as profitable as the jewelry business. Relative to that he says his fellow dealers tell him they are doing a fine business, much better than normal.

PUBLIC SERVICE DEPARTMENT

H. B. Lynch, head of the Public Service Department announces a ten per cent advance in rates on water and electric light to be effective on all readings after August 1st and to last during the present war emergency.

He reports that four employees of the Department have left the city's employ, viz: Raymond, who has gone to the ship yards at increased pay. Welz, who will work for the Government in the Internal Revenue Department, probably in Los Angeles; Robinson, a camera man who has entered the employ of a Picture Film Company; and young Davey who will work for the Ford Company. All these men are subject to the draft and may yet be called to the army.

THEY WERE SELLING BONES FOR FOOD

Over in England at the height of the meat shortage and before the populace was put on rations, they sold bones at the rate of five pounds for one shilling. Policemen regulated long lines of people patiently standing out on the sidewalks, waiting, not for their favorite matinee idol to pass, but for a chance to enter a food shop and buy a small quantity of food. It takes about three minutes for the shopkeepers to dress their windows over there, merely because there are, perhaps, but a few cans of condensed milk and a box or two of corned beef to be displayed.

Yet over her in America, bones, yea, even fats and precious scraps of meat are going into the garbage pails! Although in many cities there were long lines of people waiting last year for supplies of coal, there has as yet been no pinched-faced mob pleading for food. True, there are frequently long lines of people on the street, but mostly they are buying tickets to shows! In the busy streets in towns and cities, shop keepers display elaborate arrangements of all kinds of delicacies in their show case windows. They would scorn a "display" of corned beef and condensed milk!

A country in such straits not only needs help herself, but can not possibly be expected to contribute to the support of United States troops now on the other side. The food shortage is real. Save food and "Carry On."

INHUMANITY AND WASTE

The annual loss of life among food animals in transit to Chicago alone is reported to be as follows: cattle 1796; calves 2198; swine 9330; sheep 3120. That the greater part of this loss is due, more than to anything else, to the cruel and inconsiderate treatment of these poor creatures in loading and unloading and on the journey no one will question who knows anything about the evils connected with the transportation of animals. It has been said by a representative of the Department of Agriculture, in our hearing, that enough money is lost through the death of our domestic animals by neglect, improper care and feeding, and disease, a large part of this entirely preventable, to build a Panama Canal every twelve months.

The Allies appear to be far superior to the enemy in their supply of horses. The Germans are using many small Russian ponies for transport work. Some of their batteries are said to have no horses of their own, being obliged to borrow whenever ordered to move.

TUJUNGA

The outlook for table grapes in this section is very promising, and vineyardists are rejoicing.

Captain Hatch is busily engaged in picking and marketing his Himalaya berries. They are large, black and juicy.

Mr. Bailey of Sunset boulevard is making arrangements to distribute the Express-Tribune in this vicinity.

Our service flag will have two more stars added to it this week, Mr. Ervine and Mr. Felhaber.

Mr. and Mrs. Imhoff of Los Angeles have rented the Arthur cottage for the coming month.

Mrs. Edna H. Storms of Hemet is in Tujunga for a few days, looking after property interests here.

Many friends of Walter G. Paul will be surprised to hear of his marriage a short time ago. We were unable to learn her name but all wish them joy.

Mrs. Wieman returned from her stay at her son's home in Eagle Rock on Tuesday, bringing a friend with her for a short rest.

Five cottages in Tujunga were rented in twenty-four hours' time by Dean & Co. There are many inquiries in regard to homes in this section lately, and no where is there a more delightful home place.

The Red Cross Auxiliary held its usual meeting in Bolton Hall on Friday. It being the annual meeting, there was election of officers for the coming year, resulting in Mrs. Pacher for chairman, Mrs. Frost vice-chairman, Miss Gilbert secretary and Mrs. Ludke treasurer. The finished work was taken over on Tuesday by Miss Rodeheaver and Miss Gilbert, who brought back a new supply and will return a large consignment of salvage that has been collected at the school house.

Mr. Van Battum and family have moved to Los Angeles, where he has work at his old trade of pattern making. The Van Battum family has been here for nearly five years and will be missed from our midst.

Miss Stella Wieman, who returned to Camp Lewis last week, writes that her grip is packed for sudden call at any time.

Mr. Niemeyer and Mr. Woodruff have a fine patch of broom corn, most of it averaging about 10 feet in height with a fine showing of tassels.

Mrs. Ludke is taking a week's vacation at Camp Baldy.

Mrs. Pacher has gone to Los Angeles for a short time and will have a three months' vacation from her Red Cross work.

Dean & Co. are making arrangements to change their present stock of patterns to the McCall patterns, and hope to have them installed during the next two weeks.

Some people who come up here to look around say we can not grow anything here on account of the rocks, but when we show the fine fruit and vegetables that the land produces they look in wonderment. Corn ten and twelve feet high is doing well, broom corn, milo maize, sorghum and even cotton has been given a trial this year with the best results. A few patches of sugar beets will make all the syrup necessary for the family this winter. If you doubt what can be done, try it out for yourself. A small patch of alfalfa will with extra vegetables from your gardens, furnish food for the goat that supplies you with milk. There is no use saying anything about the bees and chickens, for the papers are continually telling you what they can do. It is not so much the land as the man who tills it. If he is bound to have a good garden, he will do it in the face of any and every obstacle that may present itself.

Republicans of the Ninth Congressional District:

Will you by division of your votes defeat all Republican candidates for the office of Representative in Congress as you have at two elections last past?

WHY NOT CONCENTRATE ON THE ONLY CANDIDATE THAT HAS ANY CHANCE OF RECEIVING THE SAME RADICAL DRY VOTES AS THE PRESENT PROHIBITION-DEMOCRAT INCUMBENT?

Other good Republicans (dry Republicans, too) have been unable to swing the Dry vote in this District. It will be the same old story both at the Primary in August and at the General Election in November unless you CONCENTRATE your votes on

SAMUEL W. ODELL The "Dry" Republican Candidate

How may he win those votes more surely than other candidates? It is a fair question. Here is the answer:

Mr. Odell has proven his Prohibition Principles by his Acts.

Other candidates may now claim to favor Prohibition but the voices of none of them were heard either on platform in the Ninth District or in the press talking or writing for California Dry or for National Prohibition until this Congressional Campaign opened.

What of the California Dry Campaign in 1914?

Mr. Odell was President of the California Dry Federation, giving his time for months in office and on platform without pecuniary compensation.

The prohibition party friends of Mr. Randall were then collecting money to push his campaign for Congress. They collected thousands of dollars which ought to have gone into the treasury of the California Dry Federation and spent it advertising him as the "Dry" candidate and thus they materially crippled the Federation.

What were the other candidates doing for California Dry?

Not a word was heard from any of them and so far as the Dry Records show not a dollar was given by them for the California Dry Campaign, but, on the contrary, one of them has been Secretary of the California Protective Association which fought the Drys to a finish, and the others were attending to their private affairs.

What of the California Dry Campaign in 1916?

Again Mr. Odell as Chairman of the Campaign Federation for the Dry work gave months of time without pecuniary remuneration. The other candidates were doing nothing for California "Dry."

What of the Dry Campaign in 1918?

At the Fresno convention of the United Temperance Forces in June, Mr. Odell urged not only a campaign for Ratification of the Sheppard Amendment to the Constitution of the United States providing for National Prohibition but also that a Bone-Dry measure be placed on the ballot in California.

What of the other Candidates?

They were not at the Convention. They were not even heard from until they became candidates for Congress.

"By their works ye shall know them."

If this is not a sufficient answer, read the following testimonial from the Anti-Saloon League about Mr. Odell's services in Courts to defeat the efforts of the Wets who attacked various Dry Laws.

Mr. S. W. Odell, Attorney at Law,

Boston Building,

Pasadena, Calif.

My dear Odell:

Your success in obtaining for the people of Venice, Needles and Watts opportunity to vote on their local liquor question when the liquor interests tried to prevent them from so doing, puts the temperance forces of the state, and particularly those of Southern California, under new obligation to you.

The Headquarters Committee of the League greatly appreciates the large service you so efficiently rendered, both in these cases and also in maintaining the validity of the ordinance recently adopted at Santa Monica.

Permit me to add my own personal expression of gratitude and to say how much we all appreciate the splendid work you have done in uniting and making effective the temperance forces of California during recent years.

Gratefully yours,

D. M. GANDIER.

THE REPUBLICAN LOYALTY LEAGUE OF THE NINTH CONGRESSIONAL DISTRICT URGES ALL REPUBLICAN VOTERS TO CONCENTRATE THEIR VOTES ON HIM.

(From circular letter issued July 15)

"To Republican voters of the Ninth Congressional District:

This league is a voluntary association of Republicans whose sole purpose is to elect a loyal and genuine Republican to be Representative in Congress for the Ninth District, instead of the incumbent, Mr. Randall, whose war record as well as politics are unsatisfactory.

This league was organized on the day when National Chairman Hays was at Los Angeles and its membership roll comprises several hundred of the leading Republicans of the District of all elements, and is rapidly growing. It is the only organization in the district whose sole purpose is to elect a Representative in Congress.

After waiting until all candidates for the office had announced themselves either publicly or privately, the officers of the league called a meeting at Burbank Hall, Los Angeles, July 13.

After considerable discussion, the choice, by almost unanimous vote, fell on Samuel W. Odell, of Pasadena.

It is our opinion that this choice will be ratified by the voters. Mr. Odell was first to announce his candidacy and has been endorsed by hundreds of leading Republicans of the District and County, some of them men of State-wide and National reputation.

It was the purpose of the league to endorse not only a genuine Republican and a man of ability, but one who would be likely to poll the largest vote. Beside the support of leading Republicans above mentioned, Mr. Odell will undoubtedly be strong with the same radically "Dry" element that has elected the incumbent twice. Having held the offices of President of the California Dry Federation and Chairman of Executive Dry Committees, as well as being one of the State Executive officers of the Anti-Saloon League—the most powerful temperance organization in the District, which is three-fourths bone-dry as to its votes—he will be a powerful candidate.

But while "Dry," Mr. Odell is not a man of one idea only. He has always believed that the Dry issue was best promoted by non-partisan efforts. He is a Republican thoroly imbued with the Republican doctrines. He is a lawyer of thirty years' experience, a college graduate, holding the degree of LL.B., a writer and a platform speaker of much experience and a ready debater. He is one hundred per cent American, being Government Agent for a Pasadena Exemption Board without pay, having two sons in the army and being himself a member of the Home Guards of Pasadena.

From every standpoint we have in Mr. Odell the strongest candidate to prevent Mr. Randall from securing the Republican nomination. Let the slogan of every loyal Republican be CONCENTRATE. REPUBLICAN LOYALTY LEAGUE, 9TH CONGRESSIONAL DISTRICT."

PLATFORM

Winning of the war; a victorious peace; punishment of auto-cratic murderers; a reunited Republican party; progressive legislation to meet the needs of a rising civilization; a Dry State, Nation and World; sympathetic improvement of labor conditions; protection of American Industries; improvement of our harbor; promotion of the interests of the District; equal suffrage and equal rights; against child-labor; against profiteering and for preparedness—these are some of his platform planks.

Mr. Odell is a student of Sociology, a lecturer, a teacher and a historian.

He is a regularly admitted Pension Attorney as well as a lawyer practicing in all State and Federal Courts. This legal training, coupled with his sympathy for all moral and social uplift movements, ought to fit him for service in lawmaking.

ENDORSERS

More than one thousand prominent Republicans, among whom are a former Lieutenant Governor, a former Congressman, State Senators and Assemblymen, Mayors, Commissioners, Judges, Editors and officers of Civic Bodies, Ministers of the Gospel, Anti-Saloon League and W. A CALL TO PRAYER

Some Glendale residents may have wondered what bell rings on the stroke of twelve every noon and why seven strokes are sounded. It is the bell in the Glendale Baptist church and is to remind all who hear its summons to a moment of prayer for our American soldiers and the allied armies who are fighting on the French and Italian fronts and the seven strokes stand for the word "victory."

MEMORIAL MONUMENT

PUBLIC SPIRITED CITIZEN URGES PERPETUATION OF HEROES NAMES

Dear Mr. Cowan:
Every time I cross Broadway at Brand and see our gold-topped flag pole with its 3 flags flying in the breeze, I feel a thrill which is more than patriotism—I'm proud that I had something to do with getting them there.

I now want to "start something" else and suggest that one of the ideas underlying the securing of the municipal flag pole is worth materializing soon.

We should have a monument or tablet on which to engrave the names of those who have "made the supreme sacrifice in the service" for us and the world. Originally it was intended to have a brass plate bolted on to the flag pole. This idea is still tenable, but maybe it can be broadened.

I am sure that a committee of patriotic and public-spirited citizens of Glendale could work out this idea and secure for us a suitable memorial and a place to put it. If some one would give us that much needed public square or park there would be no doubt where to place this monument. However, I would like to see this started to fruition and suggest that a committee of two or three interested citizens be invited to get together and develop this idea or one something like it.

Surely I do not need to give reasons for doing this. The great reason is that it is right thus to honor our own dear dead. Will you pass this along and personally help to accomplish this?

Very cordially yours,
HENRY R. HARROWER.

POLICE DEPARTMENT NEWS

Not very much is doing at police headquarters in Glendale. The principal offenders, according to Chief Herald are juveniles who have stolen melons, some of them Los Angeles boys, some from Glendale, who have been taken into custody and brought before Judge Lowe. He has talked with them very seriously telling them how Uncle Sam expects every boy to show himself worthy of being a soldier by acting as an unofficial home guard instead of breaking laws and trespassing on the right of citizens who are trying to obey the government's request to raise food products. It is sad to think that any of the care-free boys for whom our soldiers are fighting in France are making a dishonorable record at home, and the judge has tried to make them realize the disgrace of their conduct. In the case of first offenders the judge has released them on promises to behave in a more manly way, but will deal more severely with them if they continue to break the law.

Two Glendale dogs have come to the fore as disturbers of the public peace lately. A complaint was turned in at police headquarters that the little daughter of Mr. Yarik at 1447 West Third street had been bitten Tuesday by a dog which has not yet been located. Miss Roberts, assistant librarian, is said to have been bitten by a dog owned by a resident of Lomita avenue. The dog has been interned for observation by pathologists. Miss Robert's wounds were not serious and are healing so rapidly that she has been able to do her work at the City Library without interruption.

An auto collision resulting in minor damages took place Tuesday when a Mr. Lehman of the American Dye Works, Los Angeles, who was going north on Brand turned west in Los Feliz Road. He was being followed by S. A. Stuper and claims he held out his hand to signal the turn he was about to make, but the other driver failed to see it in time, got rattled and ran into a post. Result, a bent fender and scratched machine, but nobody hurt.

On the report that a Japanese gardener was holding up a boy with a shotgun in the outskirts of the city, police officials investigated but found the complainant was outside the boundaries of Glendale and therefore outside their jurisdiction. The gardener represented that the boy had been trespassing and stealing melons and that he had acted in defense of his property rights. In the judgment of the officer the was guilty, but no action was taken for the reasons stated.

ANNIVERSARY DINNER

Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Robison of 107 N. Louise St., Glendale, gave a dinner party Sunday in honor of their eighteenth wedding anniversary. Covers were laid for Mrs. M. Howland and G. E. Howland of Pasadena, F. W. Howland and brother of Chicago, Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Bonar of Medford, Oregon, Benjamin Robison, Jr. and the host and hostess.

Mr. F. W. Howland is making his first tour of California and is delighted with the country. He is especially pleased with Glendale, where he hopes to make his home in the near future.

ODELL CANDIDATE FOR CONGRESS

On another page of this issue of the Evening News there is published a two-column advertisement in the interest of the candidacy of Samuel W. Odell, who is seeking nomination for Congressman at the primary election August 27. Mr. Odell's claims should be given serious consideration, and if he is found better fitted for Congressional duties than other candidates, he is the man for whom the Republicans should vote at the primary election.

SURPRISE SHOWER

Wednesday evening Miss Blanche Shea, a bride elect, and Mrs. E. S. Bliven, who was married a few months ago, were delightfully surprised by members of the Round Table to which both young ladies belong. The guests assembled at the Shea home on Brand boulevard bringing party refreshments with them and a "personal shower" for each of the honorees. It was an entirely informal good time for young women who know each other very well and there was no program. Mrs. Bliven will soon give up her husband to Uncle Sam as he is to leave next Wednesday for the Aviation camp at Riverside.

SCHOOL WAR WORK

Arthur C. Brown of 1301 Milford street, who is principal of the McKinley avenue Intermediate school, Los Angeles, has been having a strenuous summer. A summer school in which many branches have been taught, including commercial courses, has been conducted as usual for six weeks, but with additional war work which has necessitated Mr. Brown's attendance at forenoon and evening sessions, so vacation excursions have been limited to short trips such as will be made this afternoon by auto to Echo Park for a picnic supper. The summer school will end next week, after which the Browns expect to take a real vacation for a few weeks. They have just suffered a bereavement in the death of Mr. Brown's aunt, Miss Charity Way of Santa Ana, who died following an operation and was buried last Friday.

HUNS USE SUSPENSE AS KULTUR'S WEAPON

(By United Press.)
LONDON, Aug. 1.—The "Ame Belge," mysterious little Belgian paper which the German government in Belgium repeatedly has tried to suppress, continues to make its appearance.

A recent copy of the paper, which is published secretly, received here, containing a story of another instance of Hun brutality.

Of nineteen Belgians tried at Charleroi on a charge of furnishing information to the Allies, six were sentenced to be shot.

Families of the entire nineteen were summoned and told that six of the nineteen would be executed but the officials refused to state which were to be the victims.

"The sentence was not even made known to the nineteen," stated the "Ame Belge." "In vain did their families beg and implore the Germans to tell; they were allowed to visit the prisoners, and they wept and lamented. The bitter truth would be easier than this agonizing uncertainty."

"Wives and children stood all night at the gates of the prison, alternating between infinite despair and senseless hope. At dawn six were taken before a firing squad and executed."

DOUGHNUT GIRLS GET SOUVENIRS

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is another story by one of the McIntyre sisters of Mt. Vernon, N. Y. The two girls, Gladys and Irene, are running a canteen for the Salvation Army, and are writing their experiences, from time to time, for the United Press.

By MISS IRENE MCINTYRE
(Written for the United Press.)
WITH THE AMERICAN TROOPS AT THE FRONT, July 2. (By Mail.)—The American boys have the nicest ways of showing appreciation of any one in the world, we have decided. We can't do anything out here for them without being thanked, and thanked in the most surprising and unusual ways—you would never guess what some of them are.

We have had a keen collection of notes from the trenches, most of them in answer to batches of doughnuts we sent out to boys on duty. They are written on scraps of paper, backs of envelopes, or anything, though some of them are very carefully written on the nicest paper. We are surprised to get the latter from the trenches.

We will have to get up a book of notes from the trenches after the war, for gems coming in among them. Some are poetry. Imagine boys for gems are coming in among them. Some are in poetry. Imagine boys but they do it. One note said we girls "were just as necessary to the regiment as the holes were to the doughnuts."

LOTS OF SOUVENIRS

One of the favorite ways among the boys of saying thank you is to gather up souvenirs and send them back to us. We have a collection of them now that we will always delight in, and we wouldn't part with any of them. We have lots of shells of all sizes, with the powder removed, of course. Many of them have been made into vases, and when we get back home we will have flowers everywhere if we use all our vases.

One company has promised to get each of us a Boche helmet the next time it can make a raid. We are going to see that the members of this company have doughnuts to eat just before the raid, and the boys say the doughnuts will make them get the Germans. Another company has sent us some captured signal balloons and colors.

"I think the best present we have had is 'Piddy-dink.' He is our little fox. We had mended clothes and baked doughnuts for one of the boys in a machine-gun company, and he was always bashful and got tangled up when he tried to make little remarks of thanks. One day he came in with the tiniest, cutest little fox ever seen."

He had found the fox, and said he wanted to give it to us for a mascot. We were crazy about it, right away, and named him after a general. "Piddy-dink" has been with us two months now, and he is just as tame as a little puppy. We never give him meat, and he has kept gentle and tame. He plays around with the two dogs which other boys have given us, and seems to have forgotten entirely that he is a fox.

THEY LIKE TO WORK

Another thing we like about our boys is their willingness to work. When we first moved out here we were assigned a detail of three boys to help us with our work, for we could not make fires, cut wood, and do everything when we had to make a thousand doughnuts a day. But the detail soon proved unnecessary, for we had more help than we could use. In the army no one likes "kitchen police," we had always heard. But we found out otherwise. Some boys like it. We used to ask for volunteers among the doughboys to help wash dishes. One day some officers came along and saw some privates washing dishes for us. One of the lieutenants said, "Run along, freshman, we're going to do this work." They did, and we had officers for K. P. duty.

Usually when the boys come in to volunteer to work, either washing dishes or cutting wood, they say they are homesick. They say working around a kitchen takes them back home for a while, and they enjoy it a lot because it is so different from duty in the army. We are glad they like it.

THEY RAISE 'EM THAT CLEVER, OUT WEST

By FRANK J. TAYLOR
(United Press Staff Correspondent.)
WITH THE AMERICAN ARMY IN FRANCE, June 18. (By Mail.)—He was a lad who had grown up in the woods of some western state, and he knew everything about hunting and trapping. His ability to crawl around in the grass without being seen was uncanny.

Early in the game he started crawling through the barbed wire into No Man's Land, and pretty soon he had visited all the outposts of the "Heinies" near, lying hidden near them until he got ready to come back.

One day he reported to the lieutenant in charge of his "P. C."

"Gimme a man who can crawl around with me, and we'll take that nest of Heinies out there single-handed," he said.

They told him he was crazy, and anyway they didn't have another man who could crawl around the way he could.

He was disappointed. Finally he said, "Well, gimme a chap who can understand that Heinie chatter and we'll go out and listen to them. We can get all the information you want."

The delegates recommended that the conference committee name Otis J. Fisher as the secretary of the California Bible House, which is conducted under the auspices of the California Conference of the Adventists.

Pastor Arthur G. Daniells, of Washington, D. C., president of the General, or World, Conference of the Adventists, arrived at the big encampment Sunday morning. Speaking in the big canvas tabernacle on the grounds Sunday night, he said that the world war now raging, and the onward sweep of gospel missionaries into all the world, are two sure signs that the day of God is approaching. He told of the rapidity with which the Bible has been given to the world since 1844, portrayed in word picture the wonderful openings for gospel work in heathen lands formerly closed to the missionary, and said that the lightening of the world with a knowledge of Christ, even though many refuse to accept the teachings of the Scriptures, means that the end of all things is at hand. The Adventist leader read to his great audience the words of Christ in Matthew 24:14, "This gospel of the kingdom shall be preached in all the world, for a witness unto all nations; and then shall the end come."

"This war has not changed one sermon of Seventh-day Adventists," declared Mr. Daniells. "It has not changed the views in one pamphlet or book put out by us for 50 years, because every one of these views has been based upon the Word of God as it reads. The war has only emphasized and verified the assertions which we have been making to the world for over half a century."

"God intends to leave this world without any excuse whatever in knowing that His coming is near, and so He has given the Christian world the sign of the gospel message going to all the world, and He has given the rest of the world the sign of the great war. Every time I take up a collection, I seem to hear the words, 'The Lord is coming.' Every time I read of Liberty bonds, or of men marching to the cantonments, I hear, as it were, the words thundering forth, 'His coming is approaching.'"

"Men who looked for peace are now beginning to own up squarely that they have been laboring under a strong delusion. One prominent speaker, a pacifist who was in Europe when the war broke, proclaiming a millennium of peace, says now he and all his comrades have been living in a fool's paradise, and must now take an entirely new position. But not so with the Seventh-day Adventists."

"Go back to the time of Moses, if you will, and trace your way down through the history of the human race, and during all that period of 3400 years there have been only 227 years all put together when the nations were not at war—so savage has been mankind. Men have quit talking about our civilization lifting men onto a higher plane of life. No civilization ever fell from such lofty heights as that of our day. The war has dashed men's theories to the ground, and now they say, 'The world can't bring a millennium. The Lord Jesus will have to come and bring peace Himself.'"

WE'RE FEEDING THEM MEAT—AND THEY LOOK IT!

(By United Press.)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 1.—The food American army boys are getting now is assuring them fine health.

In the wake of data showing mortality and sickness rates lower in army camps than in most civil communities, came word today that the average soldier gains nine pounds after entering the service.

Moreover, according to Maj. J. R. Murlin, it is sound flesh that will "stick."

The American soldier's meat ration, 1 1/4 pounds, which is higher than that of his British, French or Italian brothers-in-arms, is making him quick on his feet, or to, speak the medical lingo, "gives him quick delivery of maximum energy."

DIET AND DISPOSITION

Robert Sparks Walker

Despite the fact that I know that I am likely to be branded as a false prophet, or a visionary being, I dare make the statement that future generations will eat little or no meat. Personally, I do not like to eat meat—I abhor the idea of crushing out the life of an animal that an appetite may be satisfied. But we eat meat today because our ancestors ate it. It is a legacy left us that we care not to boast of.

For the last fifteen years, from observation I have been studying a few families whom I know are extravagant meat eaters. As a result of this study and observation, I am thoroughly convinced that their extreme passions, irritability, and lack of conception of the higher things in life are directly traceable to this voracious appetite for meat. And we are to be pitied rather than condemned for this uncontrollable habit of flesh-eating. The influence of diet upon the disposition of the individual has escaped scientific study long enough. We have reached that age when we must admit that our disposition to do evil is largely governed by what we eat. The influence that flesh as a food has on the individual's character is as remarkable as it is peculiar. Some of the most irritable and "high tempered" persons in my acquaintance are either excessive meat-eaters or else their ancestors were.

Let us look, for example, in the animal world. Take the members of the cat family—which are voracious flesh-eaters. Study their habits, and when we do so, we have a fine conception of what may be expected of an individual or nation that is not prudent in its diet.

There are many well-known herbivorous animals that may be studied, and the influence of diet on disposition brought out. Let us take the hare, which is one of our common animals. Its diet is purely vegetable, yet any school-boy will tell you that it has the sweetest and most likeable disposition of any creature—and is a creature that never resorts to vicious acts to punish assailants. And following the long line of vegetable feeders in the animal kingdom, it is difficult to find a single species that ever takes the offensive, and the only fighting spirit shown is for its own defense for its young.

The hare's great unoffending disposition has not led to its extermination or extinction. With as many, if not more enemies, than the average wild animal, it thrives. Natural enemies have made it the most vigilant and the most strategic of all the smaller animals. With large hawks sweeping the air in search for it, with hounds and hunters on the war-path, it manages to escape. Its strategic ability is not excelled by any of its flesh-eating relatives. In times of snow the schemes the hare employs to deceive and elude even as intelligent a creature as man, are wonderful. Those readers who have had the rare pleasure of tracking rabbits in the snow will recall the skill and thoughtfulness that they themselves had to employ in order to successfully follow the rabbits wandering in the snow.

Other herbivorous wild animals may be regarded as dangerous to mankind, but such a disposition of a wild animal of this class is the result of a more vicious attack on the beast by man. Herbivorous creatures are fighters, but they take their stand for protection. And so it is with the nations or individuals who eat little or no meat—they take their stand for preservation of principles as well as life.

The influence of diet on character is coming in for careful and scientific study in the future. That food taken into the stomach should affect our passions, determine and dominate the character of individuals and of nations, merits the closest investigation.

With these facts before us, the question arises, "Are we fighting today because a nation in the past has not been prudent and careful in its diet?" An excessive amount of meats and spirituous drinks makes beasts of their users. In the future, when it is planned for universal peace among nations, it will be interesting, as it may seem strange, that we shall appeal to men's stomachs as well as to their hearts.—Our Dumb Animals.

PSYCHOLOGY HELPS WIN-THE-WAR-SPIRIT

(By United Press.)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 1.—Uncle Sam has been using "applied psychology" to get all the American people to realize that they are in the war up to their necks.

With the actual fighting 3000 miles away, it was hard to make a prosperous farmer, merchant or lawyer in the West, Middle West or even along the Atlantic seaboard realize just how deeply America was committed to this war. And until all the people fully realized that it was an enterprise which might drain the bottom dollar and the last man they would not, so Uncle Sam reasoned, be so grimly in earnest, and so eager to give until it hurt, as if they had the right of the situation.

Justice Brandeis of the Supreme Court is credit in Washington with having given Uncle Sam the "psychology hunch." At any rate, it has been used and is being used with good effect.

Last winter when the coal shortage was so acute, there was much talk about a "psychological famine." When folks found they couldn't buy coal, in the United States of America, the greatest coal country in the world, they rather realized they were in a war. And an order was issued that churches must close. When you close a church to save coal, you start a preacher thinking. A good many American preachers figured that if the situation was so serious as that, it was time they began preaching about the war a bit. And today hundreds, even thousands of them, who were not saying much about the fight, simply keeping away from mention of it because they thought it their job to provide a contrast, are dining war and victory into their people's ears, and are proving excellent aids in whipping the war spirit to the necessary fervor.

This is one example. Other orders and moves the public didn't quite understand were partly designed to have the same effect. That they have had it is evidenced by President Wilson's recent statements that the American people are now in thorough harmony on the war, and are in it to a victorious finish.
